DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Henderson.

Henderson discloses a seat comprising a rigid frame (e) and resilient padding layer having a beveled central groove see Figures 2 and 3. The groove extends to inherently form a scrotum channel as it narrows from a back end of the frame to a front end of the frame.

Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Plus (bicycle seat advertisement). Plus discloses a seat comprising a rigid frame (e) and resilient padding layer having a beveled central groove see Figures 2 and 3. The groove extends to inherently form a scrotum channel as it narrows from a back end of the frame to a front end of the frame.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 26 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wheeler in view of Henderson. Henderson shows all of the teachings of the claimed invention except the use of a groove having an one inch width at a location midway between the front end and back end of the frame. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify the groove with a width of approximately one inch, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose (CCPA 1955).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 25-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

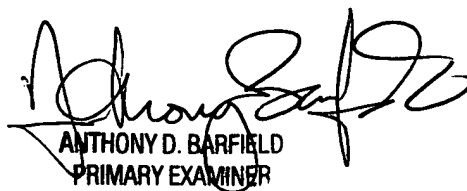

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
